MINES OPERATING AT HIGHEST CAPACITY; BUSY SEASON AHEAD

Fight That is Expected to Occur Over New WageScale One Cause of Hustle

CRY FROM SEACOAST

Sea Going Vessels Need Coal --Lake Trade Closing---Big Demand for Miners Reported

With industries booming and with the tag end of a busy lake season occasioning an immediate coal demand, operators are rushing mines to their capacity. And with mines being operated at their highest tension there is a scarcity of miners. The condition is general and will likely last until April of next year. Owing to the possibility of a fight over a new scale of wages when the present two years' scale expires the first of that month, a let-up in mine activity is looked for in the spring.

Four reasons contribute chiefly to the unprecedented fall activity. The lake trade that every summer proves a rich offering to the volumn of business is closing its season and there is a demand for coal for the closing time. Ocean going vessels are needing coal and are needing it greatly. The cry from the seacoast is one almost of distress. Industries are starting in a busy season after an ordinary summer season. This alone occasions a heavy demand for coal. Then there is the all important reason of industries and railroads getting enough coal stored away to provide an adequate supply for what is bound to be a dull spring season.

Next April, if the information comes straight, and there is every reason to believe it does, the miners will present a demand for an increase in wages. It is believed their demand will be for a 10 per cent advance, the same that they asked in April of 1912. Naturally there will be a fight made by the operators. The inevitable it seems will be that the mines will be closed for an indefinite period or until settlement is effected. Miners are generally better organized than they ever were before, and will back their demand for an increase by all the strength of their organization. It is generally expected there will be an advance granted, but it will probably be a compromise on the 10 per cent demand.

Forseeing April inactivity in mining circles industrial concerns and railroads are getting ready to lay aside a supply of coal during the winter that it may be available when the controversy over the wage scale starts. This will be simply following out plans adopted in 1912. But as during the winter of 1912, the plans will have the effect of insuring a particularly busy winter.

NOT THOUGHT BURNS WILL PROVE FATAL

Thomas Middleton, formerly of Charleroi, who was terribly burned in a steam explosion at Cleveland, Ohio, his present home, is getting along as well as can be expected. It is not thought that his burns will prove fatal.

Postoffice Is Robbed

Sensation in Gallatin Burglary--State Police Start Work on Case

The Monessen detachment of the state police is searching for two men who made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Gallatin post office at an early hour Monday morning. As yet no trace of them has been found. Mrs. Robert Edwards who lives near the postoffice heard the men break the window preparatory to entering the office and gave the alarm. They made their escape before th neighborhood was aroused, though Mrs. Edwards states that she can recognize the men if she ever sees them. Postmaster Rath says that the burglars would have made a good haul had they got into the safe as there was a considerable amount of money therein at the time.

ENGINEER IS KILLED IN WRECK

Freights Crash at Clairton in Pennsylvania Yards

MANY CARS DEMOLISHED

As a result of a collision of two trains near Clairton Monday night Engineer Samuel Harold whose home was at South Side, Pittsburg was perhaps instantly killed and several other members of the train crews were slightly hurt. A young man from Wilson station had a narrow escape from death but only sustained slight injuries.

The loaded Ellsworth coal train in charge of Conductor Robert Weddell and Engineer David Patterson was going north Monday night about 8:30 and when it reached the junction of the Peters Creek branch another coal train in charge of Engineer Samuel Harold came off the branch upon the main track. Before the enginemen saw the impending catastrophe the trains were too close together to stop. The fireman on the Peters Creek train jumped from one side and Engineer Harold, after reversing his engine, jumped from the other side. When the trains came together the engines and a number of cars were derailed, two loaded cars turning over upon the unfortunate engineer, burying him beneath the tons of coal. The other men escaped with slight injuries.

The body of Harold was not recovered until early this morning and it is thought that death resulted instantly. His remains were removed to Monongahela and later taken to his home in Pittsburg. He was 35 years of age and has a wide and several children.

One of the miraculous escapes was that of a youth whose name could not be learned. He was stealing a ride on the train and when the cars were overturned he was also buried beneath the coal until nothing but his head stuck out. He quickly called for help and was soon removed, practically unhurt.

FORMER RESIDENT MEETS DEATH IN CALIFORNIA WATERS

News has been received here of the death by drowning in California waters of William Mathewson formerly of North Charleroi. A message was received by his mother, Mrs. Janet Mathewson at North Charleroi on Monday that the young man had been drowned. No further particulars were given.

The body will be brought back to Pennsylvania for burial, and it is expected that it will arrive on Saturday or Sunday. The Mathewson family formerly lived in Fayette City and the funeral will likely be held at that place.

DAUGHTER OF WAR VETERAN OF 1812 CONFLICT DIES

granted as a pension the patent rights early hour this morning occurred the death of Miss Elizabeth Porter Lockhart aged 80, one of the oldest and best known women in Washington county. Death was the result of a protracted illness extending over a period of many years.

Miss Lockhart enjoyed the destinction of being perhaps the only living daughter of a soldier of the war of 1812, her father William Lockhart having served two years in that strife. At his death her mother was granted a pension the patent rights for 168 acres of land where now stands the city of Columbus, Ohio.

She was stricken blind about 12 years ago and her illness dated from that time. She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church and ever bore her suffering with a strong christian fortitude.

She is the last of a long line of destinguished ancestors whose names were prominently associated with the early pioneer days of this country. The funeral will occur Thursday, with interment at Monongahela.

MOTHER'S PENSION COMMISSIONERS TO BE DULY APPOINTED

Governor Tener will not withhold appointments of boards of trustees for mothers' pension distribution because the attorney general's department suggested in an opinion to Auditor General Powell that the constitutionality of the act be tested in the courts. The auditor general ha not made any announcement whether he will pay the appropriation of $200,000 made in the act, and it is presumed that he will stand a mandamus proceedings to have the question of legality determined.

Philadelphia, Allegheny and Luzerne counties have applied for appointment of boards.

RIGGS-FREW WEDDING AN EVENT TODAY

At the home of the bride's parents on Fallowfield avenue at 6:30 this morning the ceremony was pronounced which united the lives of Miss Florence Mabel Frew and Olen Lance Riggs of Charleroi. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F.A. Richards of the Methodist Episcopal church and only the members of the immediate family were present. The bride was arrayed in a fetching blue traveling suit with hat to match. Following the ceremony the young couple left at once for a lake trip and a sojourn with the groom's family in Corry. Later they will reside in Charleroi where their new home is now in course of preparation.

Mrs. Riggs is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Frew and is popular in the young social set throughout the valley. She is a graduate of Washington college, at Washington, D. C. Mr. Riggs is of the firm of Riggs and Stech shoe merchants and is a Washington and Jefferson academy man. He is one of Charleroi's foremost athletes and his prowess in this line has made him known throughout this section.

The marriage of this young couple is the culmination of a long courtship and though it was expected shortly it nevertheless came as a surprise.

Side-Door Entrance Passenger Coaches for Westside Interurban Service

TOO SOON TO ARRIVE

Will be Placed in Local Service--Little More Than Two Miles of Line Remain Yet to be Graded

While two large new cars of an improved design are being made ready for shipment from the factory at Niles, Ohio, for the Charleroi-Bentleyville line of the Westside Street Railways company the work of grading is going on at such a rapid rate that within 30 days it is expected there will not be more than two miles along the route to Bentleyville left to grade. Within 60 days it is expected that it will be possible to operate cars from Jonestown through to Ellsworth on the Bentleyville end of the line.

The new cars will be operated temporarily on the Charleroi-Monessen and the Charleroi-Belle Vernon line of the company. Within a comparatively short time two other cars will be on hand.

Forty-eight feet long, with side seats, and automatic acting side doors, the new cars will have a seating capacity of 60. They are to be of an entirely new design, patterned after the design of cars used on certain traction lines in large cities, such as New York or Boston. They will be low to the ground so that entering will not be difficult.

The time set for the operating of the new line clear through from Charleroi to Ellsworth is May 1. Eventually it is the intention of the company to extend beyond Ellsworth to Washington.

THEY PUZZLE THE LAYMEN.

All common folk take off their caps to the scientists. But when these savants come down from the cloud-capped hills to deliver their latest dictum to ordinary mortals it is sometimes a stiff job to interpret their speech says an exchange. At the British Association for example, three pronouncements were made with becoming gravity and dignified mien as befit the solemn occasions. The first is that the human race will by and by be totally crazy. The second is that members of the human race will soon cease to be born. The third is that the human race will in a few generations starve for shortage of food. We can choose any corner of the triangle—insanity, birthlessness or famine. 'Tis a most cheerful outlook. Why fear earthquake or eclipse or the outspurt of Vesuvius? For that matter what is the British Association doing worrying about the science of the future at all?

But the logic is a little mixed at any rate. If we are all to be lunities why trouble about the birthrate? If the birthrate is cut off to a cipher why need we fear insanity? And if human folk are all destined from birth to go mad then how can starvation be so dreadful a calamity? Any two negatives in this melange of professional opinion makes a deadly positive and it is evident that theology has no monopoly of paradox. That flies might so argue in the pinch of a September frost.

Fortunately for plain, simple, non-scientific minds the logic of these Alpine guides is a trifle misty and clever prophets have been themselves surprised to find that nature held a trick they did not know. There is a loophole in the cosmic system through which the man who is puzzled may be permitted to peep. Meantime the grass is growing in the valley as usual and for the rest—we will wait and see.

NEW SORT OF HIGH SCHOOL.

School life should fit a girl to keep a home says an exchange. It is strange that this simple truth has so long been overlooked. Dr. Rowe, of the Wadleigh High School, New York, has introduced into the school program a "homecraft course" which is guaranteed to equip a girl for the humdrum yet most essential duties of house-keeping. The domestic graduate will be able to cook a dinner, make a toothsome pie, trim her own hat, banish cobwebs with a broom, keep a pocketbook and talk intelligently to the grocer and the butcher.

All this is to be done without disturbing the arts of a finer and more fashionable texture. The piano will still pulsate in moments of inspiration, and there will still be a classic niche for a highbrow sort of book. But the foremost aim is to qualify as the mistress of a home. It is an up-to-date notion apt to make old-fashioned mothers smile. Thought travels in circles and "there is nothing new under the sun."

Seriously, however, there are sixty-five per cent of American high school girls who pass into a home with a little better notion of managing a house than they would have of running a circus. The educational code which has provided for the professional teacher, for the artist or musician, and for the graduate who takes to business has had no provision directly bearing on the home vocation considered as such. Is home life among the "petty domesticities" into which a girl must be thrust furnished only by the light of nature? The new sort of school has its place. It is neither a fad nor a frill. The idea is good enough to be made "catching."

Great.

It's great to have a million;
A feller can stand pat;
Or e'en a hundred thousand—
A man can live on that.
And fifty thousand dollars
Is not so very bad;
If I could get but thirty
I'd be most mighty glad.
I might say that five thousand
Would look real swell to me,
Or even say twelve hundred
It's not so bad to see.

Five hundred ain't so fancy,
Some folks would think it tame;
But I would take one hundred
And be glad just the same.
And get right down to fifty,
Some people call it small,
But twenty-five is better
Than having none at all.
Ten dollars ain't so many,
You say, but man alive,
I'll give you my opinion,
It's great to have a five.

Enough for Twelve—or Twenty-Four.

The casual brother says there will be one or two dozen people at luncheon. He will telephone us 15 minutes before they arrive. Yes, really, that's the best he can do. So we prepare for one or two dozen people, and they must sit down to luncheon because men hate a buffet meal. We struggle with the problem, how many chickens are required for 12 or 24 people? The answer, however, is really obvious. Enough for 24 will be enough for 12. —Katharine Baker, in the Atlantic.

Cheesecloth Better Than Glass.

Cheesecloth coverings for plants, a farmer tells us in an agricultural paper, are superior to glass, for they let the moisture through. The white shelter has a forcing effect, and also keeps out insects. Cucumbers from vines thus sheltered were gathered two weeks earlier than usual this season, and the enthusiastic experimenter is planning for large results next year through the use of these cheesecloth protectors.

Dog Meat in Germany.

The use of the flesh of dogs as a food for man is becoming common in Germany, even in the capital, Berlin. PICKED UP IN PASSING

"What is salt?" queried a teacher of her class in instructing it in the makeup of mineral substances.

Nobody seemed to know. Then she undertook to find out ideas on the subject by questioning each child individually. Still there was no success until she reached a sharp-faced undersized lad in the rear corner of the room.

"Johnny, do you know what salt is," she asked.

"Yes, um, it's what makes potatoes taste bad when you don't put it in," answered Johnny.

"Take it from me fellows, when you get married be sure and make it a non-sectarian alliance."

These are the words of a well known young fellow about town, who has the love fever so bad that it breaks out on his arms every once in a while. He hasn't picked one of the home girls but has been so unpatriotic as to go elsewhere in search of a heart to conquer.

"The young lady in this question is a member of the Christian church, while I happen to have faith in the doctrines of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"It is a standing argument, religion is, and when we haven't anything else to talk about we clash minds and tongues on religion.

"This has gone along for many moons with odds slightly in favor of the girl, but she has sprung another point which is the mythical straw that breaks the camel's back.

"A short time ago she was selected as a teacher in the Sabbath school and now every Sunday evening when I arrive, instead of engaging in the usual nonsense she springs the 'morning's lesson' on me.

"I got even with her Sunday night. As soon as she brought forth her lesson leaf for the third quarter I started to take up the collection and immediately the fight was on."

HAD BAD MEAT IN POSSESSION

Dr. C. J. Marshall, state veterinarian has received word from the state livestock sanitary board's agent at Wilkes-Barre, that Joseph Rosen, Herman Barth and Isadore Fried, meat dealers at Georgetown, on September 12 were found guilty and fined by the Luzerne County Court for selling and having in their possession, unwholesome meat in violation of the state meat hygiene law.

The Food Route To Steady Health

Many people are kept ill because they do not know how to select food that their own particular bodies will take up and build upon.

What will answer for one will not do for another.

If one is failing it is safe to change food entirely and go on a plain, simple diet, say:

Some fruit
Dish of Grape-Nuts and cream
Soft-boiled eggs
Crisp Toast
A Cup of Postum

no more.

Man! But a diet like that makes one feel good after a few days use.

The most perfectly made food for human use is

Article IX

Section 15. No obligations which have been heretofore issued, or which may hereafter be issued by any county or municipality other than Philadelphia, to provide for the construction or acquisition of [illegible] subways, underground railways or street railways, or the equipment thereof shall be considered a debt of a municipality, within the meaning of section eight of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, if the appropriate authority shall nevertheless demand from said property for a period of five years after both or after the acquisition thereof, or, while the same is constructed by the county or municipality, after the completion thereof, sufficient to pay interest and sinking-fund charges during said period upon said obligations, or if the said obligations may be secured by liens upon the respective properties, and shall impose no municipal liability. WOMAN A GREAT SUFFERER

Tells How She Was Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Grayville, Ill.—"I was a great sufferer of female complaints for a year and I got nothing that helped me until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was irregular and had cramps so bad that I had to go to bed. Now I have better health than I have had for years and I cannot speak too highly of your medicine."—Mrs JESSIE SCHAAR, 413 Main St., Grayville, Ill.

Case of Mrs. Tully.

Chicago, Ill.—"I take pleasure in writing to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with such awful periodic pains, and had a displacement, and received no benefit from the doctors. I was advised to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am now as well as ever."—Mrs. WILLIAM TULLY, 2052 Ogden Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Modern Astronomy.

The popular idea of the astronomer, says a writer in the World's Work, as one who spends his time in sleeping by day and peering through the small end of a telescope by night, must be dismissed. "The greater part of the modern astronomer's time," says the article, "is spent in studying photographs," often with a microscope "Paradoxical as it may seem, an astronomer today gazes more often through a telescope."

Absent.

Come along to the movies." Follow the crowd. We sob when it sobs, and, in turn, laugh aloud. Our hearts freely leap to the maid on the curtain, whose job is to weep when her feelin's are hurtin'. We pity the chap who has landed in prison—would gladly exchange all our pleasures for his'n. But where is the fellow with pity to feel for the soul in the coop who is turning the reel?—Judge.

Carrying It to Extremes.

"Your husband, I understand, is a clever after-dinner speaker?" "I understand so." "Does it keep him away from home much?" "Nearly every night. Would you believe it, when he does stay home it's got so he doesn't enjoy a meal unless I get up after the dessert and introduce him to the children and call upon him to make a few remarks?"

Discretion and Valor.

They were discussing at the club the difference between discretion and valor, and it was exemplified by one who said it would be valor to have eaten a Christmas dinner at a fashionable restaurant, and departed without tipping the waiter. And discretion? "Well," he proceeded, "to go to a different restaurant for New Year's dinner would be discretion."

Freezing Not Harmful to Fishes.

Fishes do not need to maintain a uniform or nearly even bodily temperature, and they can be frozen solid and thawed out months afterwards without injury to their health, if the process is not too sudden. Such changes happen to millions of them every year in the rivers of the colder parts of Siberia.

Modern Advancement.

Just the use of common sense, the following of personal choice, so far as that choice is moral and measured by the best instead of the worst of one's self, and the expenditure of a few pennies will place at the disposal of any worker such means of self-education as were not to be had by the rich of a generation ago.

Distinction.

Cora was fond of all-inclusive prayers, and one night she offered the following discriminating petition: "Lord, please bless mother and father and all of us, and give us everything good; and please bless our friends, and give them what is good for them!"—Harper's Magazine.

Prayer for Strength.

O Lord, give us all, we beseech thee, grace and strength to overcome every sin; sins of besetment, deliberation, surprise, negligence, omission; sins against thee, ourself, our neighbor; sins great, small, remembered, forgotten—Amen.—Christian G. Rossetti.

Silencing Watch Ticks.

Some sick people want the time handy but cannot stand the ticking of a watch. If this is the case, place the watch beneath an ordinary drinking glass. The patient can see the time but the ticking will be silenced by the glass.

Answered.

Girl's Father—Before consenting to your marriage with my daughter, I should like to know what you are worth. Young Man—Well, I get $10 a week, but I am worth $50.—Lippincott's Magazine.

One on Solomon.

Perry—Solomon himself admitted that he was puzzled by "the way of a man with a maid." Mrs. Perry—Well, he'd have been more excited over the way of a maid with a new set of dishes.—Judge.

Fitness of Things.

Probably the most harm there is in telling a girl she is svelt is that it makes her want to go and buy some new clothes like that.—Galveston News.

Time to Call a Halt.

"When our sense of humor becomes so acute that it sees through our own illusions as well as other people's," says the Philosopher of Folly, "it is time to put blinders on it."

Easy Way to Lose Sins.

On the last day of each year the Korean throws out of his house a straw image of a man, which is said to carry sins and bad luck with it.

Intoxication.

He who is drunk in a carriage has had a fit; he who is drunk in a trolley car is drunk.

Earthly Punishment.

The way of the transgressor is well written up.—Kansas City Journal.

We recommend W. B. Nuform Corsets because of their superior quality, and because they give absolute satisfaction. Comfortable from the very first, they retain their shapeliness until ready to discard them—made with lines which follow the modeling of the figure, and at bust and hips the corset fits firmly without strain or pressure—a correct model for every figure.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR UP

Built on absolute hygienic principles with ample diaphragm-lines, they show the correct "wide-waist" effect, while confining the hips into gracefully smooth, straight lines.

The beautiful Natural Figure-lines are brought into prominence, giving the Correct Poise of the present fashion, yet not disregarding the feeling of support; one of the main requirements of a properly constructed corset.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION TO HOLD MEETINGS

The Pennsylvania state public service commission will this week hear a number of complaints about switching charges in various cities, in addition to holding the final hearing on the objections to the proposed schedule of telephone rates drafted by the commission for the whole state. These rates have been complained of because they would wipe out all flat rates and put everything on a service basis.

The hearings on switching charges include: W. H. Cox & Co., Pittsburg, against the Pennsylvania Railroad for Tuesday; the Crucible Steel company of America, against the Pennsylvania, demurrage and switching, for Wednesday; American Plate Glass company, Ridgway, against Kane and Elk Railroad, alleged discrimination and demurrage for Thursday and the complaint of the Manufacturers Association of York and Lancaster counties against the Pennsylvania Railroad alleging that the rate on hauling of coal from Clearfield region to York and Lancaster manufacturing plants is excessive and discriminatory.

EQUIPMENT ARRIVES FOR WORK TO BEGIN ON LOCAL NE WROAD

Equipment, tools and a crushing outfit have been brought from Brownsville to the Maple Creek road, leading from Lincoln avenue extension, Charleroi, to Colvin's. GO FOR VACATION; ARE MARRIED

With the supposed intention of going for a vacation Charles E. Mundorff of near Homestead and Miss Etta Braddock, of Charleroi, hied themselves off to Wellsburg Monday and were quietly married. The groom is an employe of the post office department of Pittsburg and his bride is popular with a large circle of friends in the upper Monongahela valley.

EVANS A BIGAMIST PRONOUNCES THE LAW

Thomas Edward Evans, who August 19 married Miss Anna Margaret Amos aged 18, of Washington, pleaded guilty to bigamy in court Monday and was sentenced by Judge J. A. McIlvaine to six months in jail and pay $1 fine. A perjury charge brought in connection with his application for a marriage license was dropped. Mrs. Julia Evans of Greenwood, S. D., the deserted wife, was ready to testify against the husband.

The court also annulled the marriage of Evans and the Amos girl.

STATE SCHOOL MEN INSTRUCTS ON CERTIFICATES

Warning has been issued by Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction, that it was against the law for any certificates for employment to be issued to anyone under 14 years of age.

"It has come to the knowledge of the school department that during vacation labor certificates have been issued to minors under 14 years of age, sometimes with the understanding that the child shall return to school at the opening of the fall term," said the superintendent.

"The issue of certificates to persons below 14 years of age is contrary to law and makes the officer issuing the same liable to fine or imprisonment."

A marriage license was granted in Pittsburg Monday to Miss Agnes G Rosbottom and John T. Kelly both of Charleroi.

RECEIVE WORD THAT ROAD WILL BE BUILT

Word has been received from Executive Controller Samuel Todd that arrangements were already under way to begin active operations on the piece of road in New Eagle from the power house to the Riverview switch. From present indications, the State Highway Department will make extra efforts to get this piece of roadway under contract just as soon as it is possible to do so, with a view of having the improvement made this fall.

The 1913 edition of the pamphlet laws of Pennsylvania may be the largest ever issued. It is estimated that it will require 1,500 pages to contain the acts of assembly, the appriation bills and the indices of bills and subjects. The governor approved 857 of the 1,103 bills which were sent to him by the last general assembly. All of these bills, including appropriations, will be bound together, the plan of making the appropriation bills separate having been given up. The 246 vetoes will be issued in a separate volume.

The printing of the laws is going forward, all of the preliminary work being out of the way, and efforts will be made to issue the laws within a few months.

INSTRUCTIONS TO HUNTERS ARE ISSUED

Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the state game commission has sent out a circular letter of instructions in the matter of the hunting and as to the method of procuring hunter's licenses. He says:

"Blank licenses and tags were forwarded to the several counties of the commonwealth about September 1. Fifteen days have been given the sportsmen in which to secure the license and tag, and the several game protectors of the state in connection with the state police and others interested in the enforcement of the law will now be directed to arrest individuals who may be found hunting without the license. These licenses can be secured only from the several county treasurers of the commonwealth or from justices of the peace who have been authorized by the county treasurer to represent him in this matter. They may be secured either personally or by letter. A description of the applicant is necessary.

The game commission has no authority whatever to issue these licenses to any other person than a county treasurer.

"In this connection I desire to say, the law provides that a land-owner, or a tennant, residing upon and cultivating land, may hunt upon that land without securing said license; he may also hunt upon land immediately adjacent and connected with his land, without the license, if he secures permission to so hunt from those who control the adjoining land. This privilege covers only the property upon which the owner of tenant resides and cultivates. It does not include other tracts of land lying in different sections of the county or the commonwealth. It does not include the woodlot or strip of mountain land that may be located miles away from such place of residence or cultivation. It does include the woodlot that is a part of the actual place of residence, a part of which is under cultivation."

FIRE MARSHALL GETS REPORTS OF ALL FIRES

For the first time state authorities are receiving complete and prompt reports of all fires occurring in Pennsylvania, the fire insurance companies supplying the information to the state fire marshal's office. This data, which is declared by Fire Marshal Joseph L. Baldwin to be of valuable assistance in keeping track of incendiary fires, is supplied under the requirements of an act passed by the last legislature. Every fire insurance company is required to furnish a monthly report of all fires in which it was called upon to pay losses, the cause and extent of the blaze and amount of insurance being asked. Through some of these reports the department has instituted investigations and arrests of persons suspected of incendiarism.

MINES OPERATING AT HIGHEST CAPACITY; BUSY SEASON AHEAD

Fight That is Expected to Occur Over New WageScale One Cause of Hustle

CRY FROM SEACOAST

With industries booming and with the tag end of a busy lake season occasioning an immediate coal demand, operators are rushing mines to their capacity And with mines being operated at their highest tension there is a scarcity of miners The condition is general and will likely last until April of next year. Owing to the possibility of a fight over a new scale of wages when the present two years' scale expires the first of that month, a let-up in mine activity is looked for in the spring

Four reasons contribute chiefly to the unprecedented fall activity. The lake trade that every summer proves a rich offering to the column of business is closing its season and there is a demand for coal for the closing time. Ocean going vessels are needing coal and are needing it greatly. The cry from the seacoast is one almost of distress. Industries are starting in a busy season after an ordinary summer season This alone occasions a heavy demand for coal Then there is the all important reason of industries and railroads getting enough coal stored away to provide an adequate supply for what is bound to be a dull spring season

Next April, if the information comes straight, and there is every reason to believe it does, the miners will present a demand for an increase in wages It is believed their demand will be for a 10 per cent advance, the same that they asked in April of 1912. Naturally there will be a fight made by the operators. The inevitable it seems will be that the mines will be closed for an indefinite period or until settlement is effected. Miners are generally better organized than they ever were before, and will back their demand for an increase by all the strength of their organization It is generally expected there will be an advance granted, but it will probably be a compromise on the 10 per cent demand.

Forseeing April inactivity in mining circles industrialconcerns and railroads are getting ready to lay aside a supply of coal during the winter that it may be available when the controversy over the wage scale starts. This will be simply following out plans adopted in 1912. But as during the winter of 1912, the plans will have the effect of insuring a particularly busy winter.

Postoffice Is Robbed

Sensation in Gallatin Burglary—State Police Start Work on Case

The Monessen detachment of the state police is searching for two men who made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Gallatin post office at an early hour Monday morning A ... no trace of them has been found. Mrs. Robert Edwards who lives near the postoffice heard the men break the window preparatory to entering the office and gave the alarm. They made their escape before the neighborhood was aroused, though Mrs. Edwards states that she can recognize the men if she ever sees them Postmaster Rath says that the burglars would have made a good haul had they got into the safe as there was a considerable amount of money therein at the time.

ENGINEER IS KILLED IN WRECK

Freights Crash at Clairton in Pennsylvania Yards

MANY CARS DEMOLISHED

As a result of a collision of two trains near Clairton Monday night Engineer Samuel Harold whose home was at South Side Pittsburg was perhaps instantly killed and several other members of the train crew were slightly hurt. A young man from Wilson station had a narrow escape from death but only sustained slight injuries.

The loaded Ellsworth coal train in charge of Conductor Robert Weddell and Engineer David Patterson was going north Monday night about 8:30 and when it reached the junction of the Peters Creek branch another coal train in charge of Engineer Samuel Harold came off the branch upon the main track. Before the enginemen saw the impending catastrophe the trains were too close together to stop The fireman on the Peters Creek train jumped from one side and Engineer Harold, after reversing his engine, jumped from the other side. When the trains came together the engines and a number of cars were derailed, two loaded cars turning over upon the unfortunate engineer, burying him beneath the tons of coal. The other men escaped with slight injuries.

The body of Harold was not recovered until early this morning and it is thought that death resulted instantly. His remains were removed to Monongahela and later taken to his home in Pittsburg. He was 35 years of age and has a wide and several children.

One of the miraculous escapes was that of a youth whose name could not be learned. He was stealing a ride on the train and when the cars were overturned he was also buried beneath the coal until nothing but his head stuck out. He quickly called for help and was soon removed, practically unhurt.

Side-Door Entrance Passenger Coaches for Westside Interurban Service

TOO SOON TO ARRIVE

Will be Placed in Local Service--Little More Than Two Miles of Line Remain Yet to be Graded

While two large new cars of an improved design are being made ready for shipment from the factory at Niles, Ohio, for the Charleroi-Bentleyville line of the Westside Interurban Railways company the work of grading is going on at such a rapid rate that within 30 days it is expected there will not be more than two miles along the route to Bentleyville left to grade. Within 60 days it is expected that it will be possible to operate cars from Uniontown [illegible] to the Bentleyville end of the line.

The new cars will be operated temporarily on the Charleroi-Monessen and the Charleroi-Belle Vernon line of the company. Within a comparatively short time two other cars will be on hand.

Forty-eight feet long, with side seats and automatic acting side doors the new cars will have a seating capacity of 60. They are to be of an entirely new design, patterned after the design of cars used on certain traction lines in large cities, such as New York or Boston. They will be low to the ground so that entering will not be difficult.

The time set for the operating of the new line clear through from Charleroi to Ellsworth is May 1. Eventually it is the intention of the company to extend beyond Ellsworth to Washington.

THEY PUZZLE THE LAYMEN.

All common folk take off their caps to the scientists But when these savants come down from the cloud-capped hills to deliver their latest dictum to ordinary mortals it is sometimes a stiff job to interpret their speech says an exchange. At the British Association for example, three pronouncements were made with becoming gravity and dignified mien as befit the solemn occasions The first is that the human race will by and by be totally crazy. The second is that members of the human race will soon cease to be born. The third is that the human race will in a few generations starve for shortage of food. We can choose any corner of the triangle—insanity, birthlessness or famine. 'Tis a most cheerful outlook. Why fear earthquake or eclipse or the outspurt of Vesuvius? For that matter what is the British Association doing worrying about the science of the future at all?

But the logic is a little mixed at any rate. If we are all to be lunities why trouble about the birthrate? If the birthrate is cut off to a cipher why need we fear insanity? And if human folk are all destined from birth to go mad then how can starvation be so dreadful a calamity? Any two negatives in this melange of professional opinion makes a deadly positive and it is evident that theology has no monopoly of paradox That flies might so argue in the pinch of a September frost.

Fortunately for plain, simple, nonscientific minds the logic of these Alpine guides is a trifle misty and clever prophets have been themselves surprised to find that nature held a trick they did not know. There is a loophole in the cosmic system through which the man who is puzzled may be permitted to peep. Meantime the grass is growing in the valley as usual and for the rest—we will [illegible]

NEW SORT OF HIGH SCHOOL.

School life should fit a girl to keep a home says an exchange. It is strange that this simple truth has so long been overlooked. Dr. Rowe, of the Wadleigh High School, New York, has introduced into the school program a "homecraft course" which is guaranteed to equip a girl for the humdrum yet most essential duties of house-keeping. The domestic graduate will be able to cook a dinner, make a toothsome pie, trim her own hat, banish cobwebs with a broom, keep a pocketbook and talk intelligently to the grocer and the butcher.

All this is to be done without distinct fashionable texture. The piano will still pulsate in moments of inspiration, and there will still be a classic niche for a highbrow sort of book. But the foremost aim is to qualify as the mistress of a home. It is an up-to-date notion apt to make old-fashioned mothers smile. Thought travels in circles and "there is nothing new under the sun."

Seriously, however, there are sixty-five per cent of American high school girls who go into a home with a little better notion of managing a house than they would have of running a circus. The educational code which has provided for the professional teacher, for the artist or musician, and for the graduate who takes to business has had no provision directly bearing on the home vocation considered as such. Is home life among the "petty domesticities" into which a girl must be thrust furnished only by the light of nature? The new sort of school has its place It is neither a fad nor a frill. The idea is good enough to be made "catching."

Great.

It's great to have a million;
A feller can stand pat;
Or e'en a hundred thousand—
A man can live on that.
And fifty thousand dollars
Is not so very bad;
If I could get but thirty
I'd be most mighty glad.
I might say that five thousand
Would look real swell to me,
Or even say twelve hundred
It's not so bad to see.

Five hundred ain't so fancy,
Some folks would think it tame;
But I would take one hundred
And be glad just the same.
And get right down to fifty,
Some people call it small,
Than having none at all.
Ten dollars ain't so many,
You say, but man alive,
I'll give you my opinion,
It's great to have a five.

Enough for Twelve—or Twenty-Four.

The casual brother says there will be one or two dozen people at luncheon. He will telephone us 15 minutes before they arrive. Yes, really, that's the best he can do. So we prepare for one or two dozen people, and they must sit down to luncheon because men hate a buffet meal. We struggle with the problem, how many chickens are required for 12 or 24 people? The answer, however, is really obvious. Enough for 24 will be enough for 12. —Katharine Baker, in the Atlantic.

Cheesecloth Better Than Glass.

Cheesecloth coverings for plants, a farmer tells us in an agricultural paper, are superior to glass, for they let the moisture through. The white shelter has a forcing effect, and also keeps out insects. Cucumbers from vines thus sheltered were gathered two weeks earlier than usual this season, and the enthusiastic experimenter is planning for large results next year through the use of these cheesecloth protectors

Dog Meat in Germany.

The use of the flesh of dogs as a food for man is becoming common in Germany, even in the capital, Berlin. PICKED UP IN PASSING

"What is salt?" queried a teacher of her class in instructing it in the makeup of mineral substances

Nobody seemed to know. Then she undertook to find out ideas on the subject by questioning each child individually. Still there was no success until she reached a sharp-faced undersized lad in the rear corner of the room.

"Johnny, do you know what salt is," she asked

"Yes, ma'm. It's what makes potatoes taste bad when you don't put it in," answered Johnny.

"Take it from me fellows, when you get married be sure and make it a non-sectarian alliance."

These are the words of a well known young fellow about town, who has the love fever so bad that it breaks out on his arms every once in a while. He hasn't picked one of the home girls but has been so unpatriotic as to go elsewhere in search of a heart to conquer.

"The young lady in this question is a member of the Christian church, while I happen to have faith in the doctrines of the Methodist Episcopal church

"It is a stand-off argument, religion is, and when we haven't anything else to talk about we clash swords and tongues on religion.

"This has gone along for many moons with odds slightly in favor of the girl, but she has sprung another point which is the mythical straw that breaks the camel's back.

"A short time ago she was selected as a teacher in the Sabbath school and now every Sunday evening when I arrive, instead of engaging in the usual nonsense she springs the 'morning's lesson' on me.

"I got even with her Sunday night. As soon as she brought forth her lesson leaf for the third quarter I started to take up the collection and immediately the fight was on."

HAD BAD MEAT IN POSSESSION

Dr. C. J. Marshall, state veterinarian has received word from the state livestock sanitary board's agent at Wilkes-Barre, that Joseph Rosen, Herman Barth and Isadore Fried, meat dealers at Georgetown, on September 12 were found guilty and fined by the Luzerne County Court for selling and having in their possession, unwholesome meat in violation of the state meat hygiene law.

The Food Route To Steady Health

Many people are kept ill because they do not know how to select food that their own particular bodies will take up and build upon.

What will answer for one will not do for another.

If one is failing it is safe to change food entirely and go on a plain, simple diet, say:

Some fruit
Dish of Grape-Nuts and cream
Soft-boiled eggs
Crisp Toast
A Cup of Postum

no more.

Man! But a diet like that makes one feel good after a few days use.

The most perfectly made food for human use is

Grape-Nuts

SUPPORTED HIM

Food That Saved When Everything Else Failed.

The food route is a safe and very sure road back to health.

"For six years I was a serious sufferer from indigestion and general stomach troubles, from the improperly cooked food in boarding houses and restaurants of which I was a victim.

"During three of the six years, I was so bad off nervous prostration set in and I sought relief of a specialist without success. I had gotten so that I could eat almost nothing and was steadily losing flesh.

"Many different foods and preparations were recommended for a trial, without success, and I had become indifferent to all food.

"Some months after seeing your ad in the daily papers about the scientifically prepared food, Grape-Nuts, and its good qualities and being driven almost to despair over my plight, I skeptically resolved to give Grape-Nuts a trial as a last resort. And I thank God that I did.

"From my first meal of Grape-Nuts I felt a great change for the better; the knot that arose in the chest after meals disappeared; stomach ceased its uneasiness and gradually the nervousness disappeared.

"For about a year I ate Grape-Nuts and cream 3 times a day and have gained 34 pounds of lost weight and weigh 5 pounds more than I ever did and now do not find any trouble in using my old-time relishes with my Grape-Nuts.

"I expect to be married soon and I do not expect Grape-Nuts to be eliminated from my bill of fare as long as I live. If my testimony will help some poor mortal, place my letter conspicuously where it can be read." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"Grape-Nuts contain all the constituents of a complete food and in a highly assimilable state," says the "London Lancet."

WOMAN A GREAT SUFFERER

Tells How She Was Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Grayville, Ill.—"I was a great sufferer of female complaints for a year and I got nothing that helped me until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was irregular and had cramps so bad that I had to go to bed. Now I have better health than I have had for years and I cannot speak too highly of your medicine."—Mrs. JESSIE SCHAAR, 413 Main St., Grayville, Ill.

Case of Mrs. Tully.

Chicago, Ill.—"I take pleasure in writing to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with such awful periodic pains, and had a displacement, and received no benefit from the doctors. I was advised to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am now as well as ever."—Mrs. WILLIAM TULLY, 2052 Ogden Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Modern Astronomy.

The popular idea of the astronomer, says a writer in the World's Work, as one who spends his time in sleeping by day and peering through the small end of a telescope by night, must be dismissed. "The greater part of the modern astronomer's time," says the article, "is spent in studying photographs," often with a microscope. "Paradoxical as it may seem, an astronomer today gazes more often through a telescope."

Absent.

Come along to the "movies." Follow the crowd. We sob when it sobs, and, in turn, laugh aloud. Our hearts freely leap to the maid on the curtain, whose job is to weep when her feelin's are hurtin'. We pity the chap who has landed in prison—would gladly exchange all our pleasures for his'n. But where is the fellow with pity to feel for the soul in the coop who is turning the reel?—Judge.

Carrying It to Extremes.

"Your husband, I understand, is a clever after-dinner speaker?" "I understand so." "Does it keep him away from home much?" "Nearly every night. Would you believe it, when he does stay home it's got so he doesn't enjoy a meal unless I get up after the dessert and introduce him to the children and call upon him to make a few remarks?"

Discretion and Valor.

They were discussing at the club the difference between discretion and valor, and it was exemplified by one who said it would be valor to have eaten a Christmas dinner at a fashionable restaurant, and departed without tipping the waiter. And discretion? "Well," he proceeded, "to go to a different restaurant for New Year's dinner would be discretion."

Freezing Not Harmful to Fishes.

Fishes do not need to maintain a uniform or nearly even bodily temperature, and they can be frozen solid and thawed out months afterwards without injury to their health, if the process is not too sudden. Such changes happen to millions of them every year in the rivers of the colder parts of Siberia.

Modern Advancement.

Just the use of common sense, the following of personal choice, so far as that choice is moral and measured by the best instead of the worst of one's self, and the expenditure of a few pennies will place at the disposal of any worker such means of self-education as were not to be had by the rich of a generation ago.

Distinction.

Cora was fond of all-inclusive prayers, and one night she offered the following discriminating petition: "Lord, please bless mother and father and all of us, and give us everything good; and please bless our friends, and give them what is good for them!"—Harper's Magazine.

Prayer for Strength.

O Lord, give us all, we beseech thee, grace and strength to overcome every sin: sins of besetment, deliberation, surprise, negligence, omission; sins against thee, ourself, our neighbor; sins great, small, remembered, forgotten—Amen.—Christian G. Rossetti.

Silencing Watch Ticks.

Some sick people want the time handy but cannot stand the ticking of a watch. If this is the case, place the watch beneath an ordinary drinking glass. The patient can see the time but the ticking will be silenced by the glass.

Answered.

Girl's Father—Before consenting to your marriage with my daughter, I should like to know what you are worth. Young Man—Well, I get $10 a week, but I am worth $50.—Lippincott's Magazine.

One on Solomon.

Perry—Solomon himself admitted that he was puzzled by "the way of a man with a maid." Mrs. Perry—Well, he'd have been more excited over the way of a maid with a new set of dishes.—Judge.

Fitness of Things.

Probably the most harm there is in telling a girl she is svelt is that it makes he want to go and buy some new clothes like that.—Galveston News.

Time to Call a Halt.

"When our sense of humor becomes so acute that it sees through our own illusions as well as other people's," says the Philosopher of Folly, "it is time to put blinders on it."

Easy Way to Lose Sins.

On the last day of each year the Korean throws out of his house a straw image of a man, which is said to carry sins and bad luck with it.

Intoxication.

He who is drunk in a carriage has had a fit; he who is drunk in a trolley car is drunk.

Earthly Punishment.

The way of the transgressor is well written up.—Kansas City Journal.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION TO HOLD MEETINGS

The Pennsylvania state public service commission will this week hear a number of complaints about switching charges in various cities, in addition to holding the final hearing on the objections to the proposed schedule of telephone rates drafted by the commission for the whole state. These rates have been complained of because they would wipe out all flat rates and put everything on a service basis.

The hearings on switching charges include: W. H. Cox & Co., Pittsburg, against the Pennsylvania Railroad for Tuesday; the Crucible Steel company of America, against the Pennsylvania, demurrage and switching, for Wednesday; American Plate Glass company, Ridgway, against Kane and Elk Railroad, alleged discrimination and demurrage for Thursday and the complaint of the Manufacturers Association of York and Lancaster counties against the Pennsylvania Railroad alleging that the rate on hauling of coal from Clearfield region to York and Lancaster manufacturing plants is excessive and discriminatory.

EVANS A BIGAMIST PRONOUNCES THE LAW

Thomas Edward Evans, who August 19 married Miss Anna Margaret Amos aged 18, of Washington, plesded guilty to bigamy in court Monday and was sentenced by Judge J. A. McIlvaine to six months in jail and pay $1 fine. A perjury charge brought in connection with his application for a marriage license was dropped. Mrs. Julia Evans of Greenwood, S. D., the deserted wife, was ready to testify against the husband.

The court also annulled the marriage of Evans and the Amos girl.

STATE SCHOOL MEN INSTRUCTS ON CERTIFICATES

Warning has been issued by Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction, that it was against the law for any certificates for employment to be issued to anyone under 14 years of age.

"It has come to the knowledge of the school department that during vacation labor certificates have been issued to minors under 14 years of age, sometimes with the understanding that the child shall return toschool at the opening of the fall term," said the superintendent.

"The issue of certificates to persons below 14 years of age is contrary to law and makes the officer issuing the same liable to fine or imprisonment.

RECEIVE WORD THAT ROAD WILL BE BUILT

Word has been received from Executive Controller Samuel Todd that arrangements were already under way to begin active operations on the piece of road in New Eagle from the power house to the Riverview switch. From present indications, the State Highway Department will make extra efforts to get this piece of roadway under contract just as soon as it is possible to do so, with a view of having the improvement made this fall.

The 1913 edition of the pamphlet laws of Pennsylvania may be the largest ever issued. It is estimated that it will require 1,500 pages to contain the acts of assembly, the appriation bills and the indices of bills and subjects. The governor approved 857 of the 1,103 bills which were sent to him by the last general assembly. All of these bills, including appropriations, will be bound together, the plan of making the appropriation bills separate having been given up. The 246 vetoes will be issued in a separate volume.

The printing of the laws is going forward, all of the preliminary work being out of the way, and efforts will be made to issue the laws within a few months.

INSTRUCTIONS TO HUNTERS ARE ISSUED

Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the state game commission has sent out a circular letter of instructions in the matter of the hunting and as to the method of procuring hunter's licenses. He says:

"Blank licenses and tags were forwarded to the several counties of the commonwealth about September 1. Fifteen days have been given the sportsmen in which to secure the license and tag, and the several game protectors of the state in connection with the state police and others interested in the enforcement of the law will now be directed to arrest individuals who may be found hunting without the license. These licenses can be secured only from the several county treasurers of the commonwealth or from justices of the peace who have been authorized by the county treasurer to represent him in this matter. They may be secured either personally or by letter. A description of the applicant is necessary.

The game commission has no authority whatever to issue these licenses to any other person than a county treasurer.

"In this connection I desire to say, the law provides that a landowner or a tenant, residing upon and cultivating land, may hunt upon that land without securing said license; he may also hunt upon land immediately adjacent and connected with his land, without the license, if he secures permission to so hunt from those who control the adjoining land. This privilege covers only the property upon which the owner of tenant resides and cultivates. It does not include other tracts of land lying in different sections of the county or the commonwealth. It does not include the woodlot or strip of mountain land that may be located miles away from such place of residence or cultivation. It does include the woodlot that is a part of the actual place of residence, a part of which is under cultivation."

FIRE MARSHALL GETS RERORTS OF ALL FIRES

For the first time state authorities are receiving complete and prompt reports of all fires occurring in Pennsylvania, the fire insurance companies supplying the information to the state fire marshal's office. This data, which is declared by Fire Marshal Joseph L. Baldwin to be of valuable assistance in keeping track of incendiary fires, is supplied under the requirements of an act passed by the last legislature. Every fire insurance company is required to furnish a monthly report of all fires in which it was called upon to pay losses, the cause and extent of the blaze and amount of insurance being asked. Through some of these reports the department has instituted investigations and arrests of persons suspected of incendiarism.

LOCAL ODD FELLOWS VISIT MONONGAHELA

J. S. Crawford, Ward Hendershot, Matthew Wilson and Robert Craig went to Monongahela Monday night where they paid a fraternal visit to Parkinson Ferry commandery, I. O. O. F. It was the occasion of the semi-annual installation of officers and John S. Crawford, district deputy, had charge of the ceremony.

Following the regular routine of lodge business a social hour was enjoyed closing with the serving of an appetizing lunch. Several interesting impromptu talks were given and the affair proved most enjoyable.

This evening Mr. Crawford and Mr. Craig will go to Centerville where they will install the officers of the Centerville commandery.
